

CROWN ROCK DESIGN

STEVE STOUT

One of my friends, Brandi Williams, was the driving force behind a group who formed a local club chapter of the United Doberman Club in 2012. I volunteered to create a logo. There was an event, "Oktoberfest" that fall and they wanted a basic web page to help promote it.

I advised Brandi regarding hosts and volunteered to set up the page. Soon afterwards we decided to expand to a complete site. I've had the honor of creating all the graphics and animations, as well as, designing and maintaining the site. Originally I included a Word Press blog but the members preferred to just use Face Book.

For our Fall Show in October 2013 I had the opportunity to create the premium list for the show. I had some experience creating premiums for AKC Obedience and Rally trials for the Evansville Obedience Club. However, this premium was much more involved due to several separate events. The premium included entry forms and they were more than one page, so I had to be certain to get all the correct information on adjacent pages. Since then I've taken a course on InDesign CS6 which will make it easier for me next time. Along with the print version of the premium I had the opportunity to create a print version of the flyer for our show.
